

Fair Housing

With discrimination complaints, undercover investigations and penalties on the rise, it is imperative to abide by federal, state and local laws regarding fair housing. Understand your role in fair housing, including the law as it applies to children and families, accommodating people with disabilities, occupancy standards, resident selection guidelines, leasing documentation, service animals vs. therapy or companion animals, and rental procedures. Register your staff today to:

- Know what to say and, more importantly, what not to say
- Learn how to make reasonable accommodations
- Ensure your resident relations are compliant with fair housing regulations
- Gain practical solutions you can use tomorrow

Sherre Helmer is a professional trainer who started her own training and consulting company, "Dynamic Training for Results." Her seminars and workshops are filled with real life experiences, based on the knowledge obtained throughout her career as an onsite Community Manager, Regional Property Manager in multiple states, Vice President of a real estate company and Director of Training for several large property management companies. Since starting her company, she has delivered Fair Housing throughout the country from Michigan to Texas and from North Carolina to California.

Everyone in the industry needs to attend this course since the law holds individuals accountable.
